Najciekawsze kuchnie z targów Eurocucina 2018 w Mediolanie

Nowoczesność w bezpośrednim sąsiedztwie klasyki, funkcjonalne rozwiązania ukryte za gładkimi frontami, metal, kamień i drewno - kuchnie zaprezentowane podczas tegorocznych targów Eurocucina przyciągały uwagę, zachwycaly, pobudzały do dyskusji nad aktualnymi trendami.

Tym, co zwraca uwagę na zdjęciach prezentujących kuchnie z targów w Mediolanie, jest przewaga ciemnych kolorów mebli, korespondujących z kamieniem i stalą, których pojawiło się w tym roku sporo. Producenci postawili na monolityczne, dość ciężkie wizualnie bryły, często pozbawione uchwytów i innych elementów zakłócających gładkość frontów. Nie zabrakło jednak kuchni o klasycznym wyglądzie, frezowanych frontów, przeszkleń dzielonych szprosami, drewna o wyraźnej strukturze. Dużo było otwartych elementów w prezentowanych zestawach mebli - półek, półeczek i zagłębień w blatach. Z drugiej strony jednak było widać tendencję do ukrywania sprzętu AGD i zawartości szafek i szuflad za frontami. Dominowały kuchnie z wyspą - ten element zabudowy kuchennej już na dobre wpisał się w trendy, zwłaszcza że stał się rozwiązaniem również dla niewielkich kuchni, w których stanowi dodatkową powierzchnię do pracy i przechowywania przedmiotów.

«Abimis – новый этап развития в создании кухонь»

Вслед за растущим успехом последних лет и положительным откликом международной клиентуры, Abimis на Salone del Mobile был представлен в новом фирменном стиле и несколькими поразительными продуктами.

Рестайлинг был проведен в партнерстве с Adv Media Lab, стенд создали дизайнеры Studio MILO. А центром внимания стала кухня Ego, которая была представлена в новых отделках, наряду с новой системой контроля сохранности продуктов — набором холодильных отсеков, с различной температурой, контролируемой с одной практичной панели.

Abimis Kitchen: A kitchen in any finish. | e-ktinos

14/05/18 14:59

Designing an Abimis kitchen is like sewing an haute couture gown: you can customise the cut, the colour, the material, to make it as unique as a work of art, fully personal. Bespoke.

The top and doors on Abimis kitchens can in fact be customised with any finish, while retaining the characteristic core in biologically neutral stainless steel which makes them hard-wearing, durable, safe and eco-sustainable.

Abimis Kitchen: A kitchen in any finish. | e-ktinos

The apparent coldness of stainless steel can thus be abated by matching it with natural stone, acrylic, wood or other materials, or by painting the structure in any shade you prefer, to suit all styles and settings.

An example can be found in the kitchens which Abimis presented at the latest edition of Eurocucina, customised with rough-cut wooden doors, or the model recently installed in the heart of North Italy, with a spectacular Nero Assoluto granite top with leather finish and split edge.

Abimis can be any kitchen. You just choose which.

ABIMIS IS BACK WITH LOTS OF NEWS AND A RESTYLED IMAGE

Following the growing success of recent years, and the positive response from an international clientele, Abimis returns to the Salone del Mobile with a new corporate identity and several astonishing products.

This notable development involved several aspects of the corporate identity, which was restyled in partnership with Adv Media Lab, for the creation and expansion of the website contents, and Artemio Croatto's Studio Designwork, who won the Compasso d'Oro award in 2014, for the design of a catalogue marked by the same depth as the corporate concept. This restyling process also affected the booth, conceived by Designwork and the styling of which was in the hands of Studio MILO. The limelight was cast on the Ego kitchen, which was presented in new, attractive finishes, along with the new Cold Control System, a set of tall units and refrigerated compartments, each at a different temperature and controlled from a practical panel, for proper preservation of food and beverages.

The new blue finish

Customised not only in its dimensions but also in its finishes, every Abimis project sums up the experience of a kitchen that has been entirely built to suit the customer's needs, starting with a single material, namely stainless steel.

10/05/18 11:29

On the occasion of the Salone del Mobile 2018, Abimis presents an unprecedented version of its Atelier model in deep blue, with a strong personality and a gently polished surface capable of interacting with natural and artificial light in its surroundings. Each Abimis kitchen can be customised in every single detail, including the colour; hence it can prove to be a creative tool to express the customer's identity. There are no limits to the customisation possibilities and there is no standard colour offering in the catalogue: any shade can be studied and applied specifically to ensure the kitchen blends in seamlessly with its intended setting.

In its desire to confirm the guaranteed hard-wearing durability that distinguishes all its products, Abimis also applies paint using the same techniques traditionally used for cars: an articulated process that envisages subsequent phases of smoothing, painting and possibly polishing, for a uniform, top-performing effect.

The new Cold Control System

Quality ingredients are required for a quality recipe. In this regard, it is inevitable that the food preservation phase takes on undisputed value in the general act of cooking, also and especially if devised in relation to the fundamental issues of hygiene, health and safety.

On the occasion of the Salone del Mobile 2018, Abimis tackles this significant phase of preservation by presenting its Cold Control System, a high-tech collection of refrigerated tall units that are entirely customisable in terms of finish, size and configuration, which have been rendered unique by an easy-access external panel allowing modulation of the temperature in the various compartments and status monitoring at any time. Thanks to its Cold Control System, which exploits the technologies implemented in the largescale collective catering industry, Abimis continues with its plan to bring together the professional kitchen world with domestic usage, to make the everyday act of cooking unique also in the home, with the best and the most reliable instruments.

The appearance, simple and with soft silhouettes, and the material, AISI 304 stainless steel, remain the same as those used in Abimis kitchens. The approach to health and hygiene remains the same as for Abimis kitchens, devised to abide by the strictest standards: the flush-fitting doors and the bevelled doors, without any sharp edges, in fact prevent any dirt and grime encrustations and facilitate the cleaning process.

The Abimis kitchen goes outside!

Trends in the world of contemporary architecture and interior design are increasingly involving the outdoors as a natural extension of the indoors: large floor-to-ceiling windows that overlook courtyards, gardens and carefully decorated terraces, consistent flooring, broken architectural barriers... Hence the fashion come-back of outdoor kitchens, not just as simple barbecue stations, but as major multi-accessorised facilities designed to enjoy the benefits of the open air in the company of one's guests, as well as a time to enjoy an al fresco meal, and stay outside while preparing it too. Abimis already caught onto this trend in recent years, which officially became an integral part of the product catalogue on the occasion of the Salone del Mobile 2018.

позиции, но вовсе не уходит из современного кухонного пространства. Открытые полки и стеллажи на металлических скобах — привычка времени.

Явно прослеживается влияние ретростилей (это общая тенденция в интерьере, и было бы странно не отметить ее на кухне).

Кухонные «острова» из металла или с «каминой» отделкой, имитирующие плиты прошлого, — своеобразный хит. Как и кухни из искусственной, рождающие ассоциацию с профессиональным миром ресторанов. И здесь прослежуется два важных момента: высокая гастрономия (готтеть дома вкусно и обычно иначе в моде) и профессиональная кухня. Материалы, стойкие к загрязнениям и бактериям (стекло, металл и керамика), — вне конкуренции.

Кухни давно вышли из своего «утка» и обединились с гостиными. Вернуть назад их больше не получится, и производители предлагают решения, безболезненно интегрирующие кухонную мебель в живое пространство. Одни из вариантов — спрятать кухню за раздвижными перегородками, словно в шкаф, при закрытых дверях ее в комнате не найти.

Еще одно предложение, которое встречалось не единожды, — кухни-«каминки», функциональные модули, которым надо совсем немного места. Экономический кризис показал на разрыв строящегося жилья не только в России, но и во всем мире, и это не могло не отразиться на индустрии.

THE OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF

The ABIMIS Outdoor Kitchen uses AISI 316 stainless steel, which is resistant to water, sudden temperature changes and general atmospheric agents. This outdoor kitchen can be customized in every detail, including choice of appliances, the height and depth of the worktop and the finishes.

VINOTEMP has announced the addition of the 41-Bottle Outdoor Wine Cooler to its outdoor entertaining appliance offering. This outdoor wine storage solution features adjustable shelving, a customizable 31-degree temperature range and is front vented for easy installation.

The Bora & Bora Collection from WALKER ZANGER offers a complete solution for porcelain flooring in both indoor and outdoor projects. Available in natural and structured finishes in both standard and large sizes across a range of neutral colors, the collection mimics fine-grain Portuguese and Spanish limestone.

Trends

"These clients will want to design with attention to their particular extremes," said Gregory Thomas, Eugene, Ore.-based architect and design consultant with the Neil Kelly Co. "In the Southwest, designing to work with prevailing breezes can help with cooling an outdoor space. In the Northeast, designing to block cold winds and providing convertible wall panels that can be put in place seasonally will add warmth during the shoulder seasons."

THE FUTURE OF THE OUTDOOR SPACE

With a larger variety of climates and demographics considering outdoor spaces, the trend of creating more spaces unique to the client will continue. Homeowners in urban areas will look for ways to include outdoor experiences in smaller spaces, and more traditionally indoor activities – like watching sports – will move outside. Manufacturers will likely continue catering to requests for more personalization, including finishes and looks that usually appear inside.

"We used to see a very narrow range of styles and selection of materials and finishes, but the outdoor kitchen designs of today have never been stronger or more diverse," said Faulk. "The range of design styles is broader than it has ever been."

Highly durable materials that emulate more delicate ones, like wood-look porcelain tile for the outdoors, will advance in detail and accuracy. Advances in temperature control, like the ability to circulate some of the indoor heating or air conditioning to a protected outdoor space, are also likely. This will allow more consumers of all environments to enjoy the outdoors more.

"From an electric grill on a cart with a bistro set, to a full-blown kitchen design that ties into a pool, lounge and covered dining area, outdoor living is versatile, fun and the new hub of the home," said Kelly. "Outdoor spaces encourage authentic engagement among family and friends and a new level of wellness for all who partake."

LEFT NANAWALL SYSTEMS introduces Kitchen Transition – a dual-height combination of the company's opening glass windows and walls – now with the new RemoteSTACK feature. This addition allows designers and homeowners to stack the glass wall systems virtually anywhere.

MIDDLE LEFT SONNEMAN – A WAY OF LIGHT'S Offset Panels offer shielded LED illumination that reflects dramatically off the slightly hidden, offset surfaces of this layered composition, which is at home inside or out. The fixture is available in textured bronze, textured gray and textured white.

BELOW NAPOLEON'S OASIS Modular Island enables homeowners to personalize their outdoor kitchen area with a cooking and storage solution that fits a variety of spaces and budgets. The kitchen includes knockouts for easy electrical and gas piping installations, 304 stainless steel doors and powder-coated steel in a carbon finish with a two-coat pebbling system.

Между небом и морем

Этот дом в регионе Тоскана, в провинции Гроссецо стоит на высоком берегу и, как уверены его хозяева, — «между небом и морем». Здесь супруги проводят отпуск, иногда приезжают отдохнуть на уик-энд. К проектированию интерьеров был приглашен итальянский архитектор Филиппо Бомбаче.

Филиппо Бомбаче (Filippo Bombacce), архитектор и глава бюро Oficina de Arquitectura

Окружающий ландшафт отражен в дизайне интерьеров. Во-первых, комнаты максимально открыты для созерцания видов, во-вторых, морская тема отработана обилием ультрамарина и бирюзы. Главной задачей проекта Филиппо Бомбаче снята за счет отделки, мебели и декора придать дому энергию, живость и счастье. Палитра декора не просто опирается на итальянские 1950-60-х годы, тут есть конкретный историко-вдохновения. До начала работы над жилищем Филиппо Бомбаче предложил хозяевам разнообразные варианты декоративных решений, свой выбор они остановили на интерьерах Джо Понти (Giò Ponti). Знаменитый отель «Parco dei Principi» в Сорренто, созданный Понти в 1960-ом году, понравился больше всего.

В столовой синий цвет и натуральный камень на стенах формируют образ всего дома. Примотульное союко зеркало в раме с аккуратно скругленными углами украсило под углом так, чтобы к нему отражался окружающий пейзаж. Столы в столовые выкрашены крутыми полосами по диагонали. Такой прием делает комнату

визуально больше. Ванной комнате плиткой выложена только одна стена. Куник со столешницей сообщаются прямым, благодаря которому пространство выглядит более открытым. Голубой круг — прямое простоты, но очень действенный. Стена выглядит интереснее. Бело-синие винтажные сантехники в духе Джо Понти подарили дому динамику и подчеркнули близость к морю. Архитектор решил сохранить перекатовую плитку на полу и сочетать ее с расписной керамикой Vietri, напоминающей о том, что хозяева дома — по происхождению неаполitanцы. Эти плитки украсили ванную комнату, кухню. Особенно эффектно она выглядит в гостиной. Каждый раз, когда Филиппо Бомбаче становился со свищом базальной планировкой, он предумывал геометрические выкраски: то голубые круги, то широкие диагональные полосы. Простая мебель с темной фанеровой дополнит образ интерьера.

Trends in the world of contemporary architecture and interior design are increasingly involving the outdoors as a natural extension of the indoors: large floor-to-ceiling windows that overlook courtyards, gardens and carefully decorated terraces, consistent flooring, broken architectural barriers... Hence the fashion come-back of outdoor kitchens, not just as simple barbecue stations, but as major multi-accessorised facilities designed to enjoy the benefits of the open air in the company of one's guests, as well as a time to enjoy an al fresco meal, and stay outside while preparing it too. Abimis already caught onto this trend in recent years, which officially became an integral part of the product catalogue on the occasion of the Salone del Mobile 2018.

The specific features of the brand philosophy remain unchanged in Abimis outdoor kitchens, first and foremost with the prevalent use of AISI 316 stainless steel, the valuable 'super alloy' resistant to water, to sudden temperature changes and in general to atmospheric agents, recommended for use in salty air or chlorine rich environments.

The idea of impeccable tailoring also remains. Indeed, this outdoor kitchen can be customised in every detail, starting with the composition and accessories, through to the height and depth of the worktop and the recessed plinth, or the type of household appliances to equip it with: grill, hotplates, fryers, etc. The finishes can also be customised with paints and other materials, both natural and non, treated to guarantee safety, durability and resistance, even when subjected to the effects of time and the more aggressive effects of bad weather.

Professionalism and hygiene complete the ambitious project: Abimis kitchens are designed to limit any dirt and bacteria deposits and to be easy to clean. Last but not least, the doors and drawers with pull-out surfaces make it possible to keep crockery intact, and in some cases they can be accessorised with refrigerated elements or with heated elements. Whether you have a generously proportioned poolside or a city terrace, Abimis kitchens can furnish all spaces with compact kitchen blocks or major multi-purpose chef's workstations, for a barbecue, a snack, a buffet or a multi-course meal, on special occasions... provided it's out in the open air.

The Cold Control System consists of multiple compartments, each separate from the next and at a different temperature, designed for clever, well-organised food preservation: for instance, meat and fish are kept separate from fruit, vegetables, milk, etc. to avoid contamination. All the shelves in the system can slide out to ensure maximum accessibility and improved spatial organisation. Last but by no means least, the internal ventilation system guarantees the temperature is the same throughout the entire compartment. The Cold Control System by Abimis also implements the Gastronorm system, which envisages standard dimensions for containers, trays and other instruments used in the catering industry, thereby optimising the arrangement of the various compartments and the enjoyment of all the ingredients and work tools.

The Ego island in polished mirror finish

Having premièred in 2017, the polished mirror finish by Abimis is officially launched on the market during Eurocucina 2018.

Applicable to both Ego and Atelier, the new finish is capable of giving kitchen blocks a contemporary look and a strong personality: this is the case for the island placed in the middle of the exhibition booth, which interacts with light and space, continuously transforming, like a mirror that is constantly connected to its surroundings.

An astonishing design, which suggests contemporary domestic settings with an international and metropolitan influence.

The material remains AISI 304 stainless steel, which is flawless in terms of hard-wearing durability, hygiene and practicality, and it is impeccably crafted thanks to treatments divided up into several phases, to achieve the characteristics finish. The same applies to the shapes, which remain true to those drawn by the architect Alberto Torsello and devised to be soft, less edgy than those used in large-scale professional catering kitchens and slightly inspired by 1950s models, and hence more suited to private, residential use.

The central island is completed by the top with orbitally polished finish and the brass handles, which create a delightful contrast with the surface for an harmoniously elegant overall effect.

Part two of our coverage from Milan's Salone del Mobile, the International Bath Exhibition, and Eurocucina, perhaps the most important kitchen and bath shows in the world.

By Elaine Markoutsas

Blurring lines between the kitchen and living spaces was the overarching theme at the 2018 EuroCucina (<https://www.salonemilano.it/en/manifestazioni/eurocucina-ftk-technology-for-the-kitchen.html>) in Milan. How that played out was in more furniture-like cabinetry and borrowing from closet design to keep appliances under wraps.

One hundred seventeen companies exhibited in more than 22,000 square meters, with an additional 48 brands in some 14,300 square meters in FTK, technology for the kitchen. There were 434,509 attendees from 188 different countries at Salone del Mobile (<https://www.salonemilano.it/en/>), a 17 percent increase from 2016, which featured the biennial kitchen and bath event.

The lifestyle focus was the mantra of the Gaggenau (<http://www.gaggenau.com/us/>) booth, which design director Sven Baacke called a home. An aspirational domestic space, it spotlighted the new Vario 400 series of refrigeration (which debuted at KBIS (<https://www.kbis.com/>) in January), in an open kitchen plan and included modern furniture from Walter Knoll (<https://www.walterknoll.de/en>) and lighting installations from Occhio (<https://www.occhio.de/en>).

Dolce & Gabbana debuted the first range and hood in its collection for Smeg (<http://www.smegusa.com/>). The coloring (blue and white) nods to Italian maiolica ceramic pottery and features mythological imagery.

A commercial look that feels refined at home, the Ego island from Abimis (http://abimis.com/en/lines-kitchen/) features shapely rounded doors that are softer and less edgy than those in pro kitchens. The island also is accented with brass handles.

Salone del Mobile 2018: итоги и тренды

Выставка ISaloni по праву считается главным событием в мире дизайна интерьера. Здесь формируются тренды на будущий год, представляют мебельные новинки, а эксперты обмениваются профессиональным опытом. Для тех, кто не смог побывать на лекции (<http://rdh.ru/design/30315-lektsiya-o-trendakh-salone-del-mobile-2018-project-17-maya-na-arkh-moskve/>) арт-директора студии Точка дизайна Ивана Миролюбова, публикуем итоги и тренды, собранные им в самом эпицентре выставки, прошедшей в Милане в апреле этого года.

Японский дизайн

Главное правило в японском дизайне: не использовать случайных вещей. Умиротворяющая атмосфера, свойственная ему, достигается за счет использования лаконичных форм и натуральных материалов. Форма, как правило, сильно упрощена и выглядит очень основательно. Хороший пример: Coma Chair от фирмы Pistacchi. Его лаконичный дизайн без лишних деталей и натуральные материалы в отделке как никогда отражают современные тренды.

Сталь

Среди демократичных кухонь можно увидеть набирающий популярность тренд в использовании стали. При этом стальные покрытия чаще всего используют в комбинации с другими материалами. Например, с цветными глянцевыми фасадами, как фирма Abimis.

Натуральный камень в отделке кухонь

Миланский мебельный салон 2018 был во многом посвящен кухням, неизменный тренд для которых – это отделка натуральным камнем. Так, компания Strasser представила на выставке очень интересные варианты лаконичного оформления фасадов. Использование натурального камня здесь сочеталось с трендом на цвет.

Парижская квартира с удивительной кухней из нержавейки

Эта квартира с белым интерьером находится в Париже и примечательна своей минималистичной кухней из нержавейки. Вся кухонная мебель выполнена из нержавейки фирмой Abimis (<http://abimis.com>), которая занимается изготовлением кухонной мебели хай-энд класса. Стальная кухонная мебель изготавливается исходя из потребностей профессиональных поваров - надежная, удобная в работе и ее легко поддерживать в чистоте. Мебель имеет несколько скругленные углы в ретро стиле, что особенно ярко выражено на дверцах и выдвижных ящиках. Таким образом дизайнерам удалось создать минималистичный дизайн который находится вне времени и был бы модным, как в начале прошлого века, так и через много десятков лет. Особенно выигрышно матовая поверхность мебели смотрится в лучах солнечного света.

Все фасады, дверцы, ящики и поверхности выполнены из нержавейки. Вся мебель имеет скругленные травмобезопасные края.

Kuhinja je srce doma, mjesto na kojem se susrećemo, družimo i zabavljamo pripremajući ukusna jela koja mame osmjehe na lica ukućana i prijatelja, i baš zato mora biti funkcionalna i praktična poput vrhunski opremljenih i profesionalnih kuhinja u restoranima i hotelima. Danas se velika pažnja posvećuje dizajnu kuhinja i novim materijalima. No, nama su i dalje najdraže kuhinje od nehrđajućeg čelika, koje su sve samo ne obične. Možda zbog zaobljenih uglova i retro izgleda, ova nam je kuhinja odmah upala u oči, a riječ je o Abimis kuhinji od nehrđajućeg čelika iza koje stoji talijanski brend Prisma, koji više od trideset godina proizvodi profesionalne i samoposlužne kuhinje i šankove.

Poput znanja koje se prenosi s oca na sina, Prisma je prenijela strast za izvrsnošću u kuhinje Abimis, koje za cilj imaju ponuditi talentiranom korisniku funkcionalna i nekonvencionalna rješenja. Svaka je Abimis kuhinja izrađena prema specifičnom dizajnu, a posebna se pozornost posvećuje: obliku, materijalima, praktičnosti, higijeni i sigurnosti, te preciznoj izradi što se lijepo vidi u detaljima.

Metal w kuchni - nie tylko industrialnej

Wyspa „Ego” to klasyka gatunku – inspirowana profesjonalną kuchnią wykonana jest w całości ze stali nierdzewnej, więc niestraszne jej woda ani żadne zabrudzenia. Meble produkowane są na zamówienie i – choć przeznaczone dla domowej kuchni – zawsze z uwzględnieniem standardów ergonomii stosowanych w gastronomii.

Metal w kuchni – pierwsze skojarzenie to lśniące czystością i stalą restauracyjne zaplecze. Ale metale pojawiają się w kuchniach na wiele sposobów – na dużych płaszczyznach lub, najczęściej, w detalach. Jednak najciekawsza jest bajeczna wprost różnorodność ich kolorów i wykończeń.

Kiedyś decyza była prosta: do kuchni klasycznej lub rustykalnej stylizowana mosiężna bateria, ewentualnie reling, do nowoczesnej – chrom i stal nierdzewna. Ten schemat właśnie się załamał, bo pojawiły się całkiem nowe możliwości i projektanci prześcigają się w wymyślaniu nietypowych zastosowań metalu w kuchni. Trudno się dziwić, bo to materiał,
